CONGRESS TO ADJOURN FRIDAY NEXT

In Spite of Owen's Determination to Secure Vote on Corrupt Practice Bill Hopes of Adjournment Are Good.

PLANS ARE MADE TO RUSH LEGISLATION

Representative Kitchen Sends Out Call for Absent Members to Hurry Back for the Final Offensive of House.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Congress is getting ready to adjourn next Friday, if possible, ignoring all threats of members to press special bills over protests of leaders.

It is expected that a joint resolution to provide for adjournment Friday evening will be submitted to both houses next week as soon as the general deficiency appropriation bill has passed the House probably on Tuesday. Democratic leaders declare the resolution will be adopted and that this will operate to check a threatened prolonged fight in the Senate over the Owen Corrupt Practices Bill, which aroused a fusillade of charges and counter-charges of political corruption yesterday.

Senator Owen's determination to demand a vote on a motion to take up the corrupt practices bill still hangs over the Senate but several influential Democrats said today his motion, if he got an opportunity to make it, would be defeated. Senator Smith, of South Carolina, intends to seek another opportunity to pass the immigration bill and he might get it through if it could be done without provoking debate. After the deficiency and revenue bills are passed, however, Senate leaders on both sides say "wild horses could not hold a quorum."

To clear the way for adjournment Majority Leader Kitchen sent urgent telegrams today to all house absentees asking that they return at once for the final legislative drive of the session. The House has the shipping bill as amended and the revenue bill conference report to dispose of next week. The Senate is planning to lay aside the revenue bill to pass the deficiency bill as soon as it gets through the House.

"When that is done," said Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, "all debate on the revenue bill will halt and it will be rushed through. In the meantime Senate amendment to the House bill are being informally considered with the way and means committee members and final report will be ready as soon as the bill reaches the House, to be sent to conference. With the revenue bill passed, I do not think that anything can stop adjournment of Congress unless something entirely unexpected should develop."

If anything should happen to prevent adjournment next Friday it will be necessary for Congress to stay over until the next following week, as President Wilson will go to New Jersey for his formal notification of his nomination for re-election.

Monkey Enraged at Turpentine Bath

DOUGLAS, Aug. 25.—"Chango," a large monkey belonging to Harry C. Wilson, proprietor of a social club here, escaped from his quarters today and entered a small hotel, invading the room of a guest. Finding a medicine chest he investigated the contents, with the result that he poured a quantity of turpentine on his body. Enraged by the burning of the fluid, he broke every bottle in the room, then tore up a quantity of clothing in an effort to wipe the turpentine off.

The proprietor of the hotel and a number of guests attempted to capture him but were held at bay by the animal, perched on top of a dresser and throwing missiles at them. Later he escaped to the rear yard where he killed and was eating a chicken when he was captured by members of the city police force. He occupied a cell in the city jail tonight until a decision could be reached as to what should be done with him.

MERCHANT FLEET HEAD FAVORS SOLDIERLY TRAINING

Andrew W. Preston.

President Andrew W. Preston of the United Fruit Company, is allowing all of his employees who attend the Plattsburg training camp one full month's vacation at full pay, with a bonus of $75. Mr. Preston is an ardent advocate of military training and preparedness.

WOMAN MURDERS CAPTAIN OF MILITIA

Prominent Atlanta Physician, in Guard Service, Killed By Woman, Who Claims Improper Attention by Him.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

MACON, Ga., Aug. 25.—Captain Edgar Sprattling of Company F, Fifth regiment national guard of Georgia, was shot and killed in his tent at the state mobilization camp near here today by Mrs. A. C. Adams of Atlanta. At the county jail tonight where she was held on a charge of murder, Mrs. Adams asserted that Captain Sprattling, who was a physician, had offered her by attentions paid her several weeks ago while she was in his office in Atlanta for treatment.

Mrs. Adams, who is about 30 years of age, came from her home in Atlanta today and went directly to the camp. At Captain Sprattling's tent she asked the officer if he were Captain Sprattling, and on being answered in the affirmative, fired at him twice from a small calibre revolver, both shots taking effect. According to Lieutenant Samuel A. Kyser of Company F, who seized her a moment later, she cried out as she shot the officer: "You have ruined my home!"

After the shooting she seemed hysterical. She said afterwards she had never before seen Captain Sprattling in his uniform, but that he had treated her for a nervous trouble. Referring again to the shooting, she declared:

"I decided there was but one thing for me to do, and I did it. When the testimony comes out I feel sure the public will be with me."

According to information received here Mrs. Adams left her home in Atlanta shortly after her husband, who is employed at a laundry, had gone to work, leaving her and the couple's three children at home. She said tonight she had previously told her husband of alleged improper relations between her and the captain.

Captain Sprattling, who was 47 years old and married, was well known in medical and social circles in Atlanta. He was regarded as an expert on insanity and once was connected with the Matteawan, N. Y., asylum in that capacity.

Plans were placed at half mast in the state camp tonight and preparations were made to take the officer's body to Atlanta under military escort. His fellow officers indicated a belief that nervous disorders had caused the woman to think the physician-captain had acted improperly toward her.

A coroner's jury tonight held Mrs. Adams to the county jury on a charge of murder.

DIES OF INJURIES

COLORADO SPRINGS, Aug. 25.—Albert Gustavson, a Denver merchant injured near here yesterday when his automobile skidded and turned over, died tonight. His body will be sent to Denver. Gustavson's wife was riding in another car some distance ahead of her husband at the time

OLD LINE AND PROTECTIVE INSURGENTS TANGLE

Senator Gallinger Criticizes Progressive Republicans for the Actions Against Joe Cannon and Aldrich.

GRONNA MAKES HOT
DENIAL OF ASSERTION

Minority Leader Severely Arraigns Underwood Tariff Law, Saying Under Its Operation Business Stagnated.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—The first clash of the session between so-called old line and progressive Republicans occurred in the Senate today during debate on the emergency revenue bill. Senator Gallinger, the minority leader, criticized Progressive Republicans for the overthrow of former Speaker Cannon and attacks on the late Senator Aldrich, drawing a vigorous reply from Senator Gronna.

Senator Gallinger declared that certain Republicans who had sown seeds of discontent over the Dingley tariff chose former Speaker Cannon as the man on whom to heap the burden of blame and that they preached the false theory that the high cost of living was due to the Dingley tariff. Senator Gronna insisted that the tariff had nothing whatever to do with the removal of Cannon and that he was attacked only to end an era of autocratic domination of the House. He also hotly denounced inferences that Progressive Republicans had at that time demonstrated free trade tendencies, and charged that Republicans of the "old guard" had sought to subject the farmers of the country to free trade in agricultural products.

Senator Gallinger predicted a return of the country to the protective tariff policy and assailed the Underwood tariff in unreserved terms.

"The history of the ten months during which the Underwood act was operative under normal conditions," said he, "is sufficient to justify our predictions, and to further put the stamp of disapproval on it. In the first ten months of the Underwood tariff law there was an increase of $8,000,000 in imports and decrease of $243,000,000 in exports."

"Sugar factories closed down, or were operated under reduced conditions, steel mills drew their fires, woolen mills retrenched, many cotton mills were forced out of business, factories that remained open reduced their output, stocks depreciated, three million were earners were out of employment, the largest percentage since 1894-1897, freight cars to the number of 350,000 were idle, as were the locomotives and engines, freight handlers, firemen and others depending upon their operation, sixty per cent of the railroad mileage of the country was in the hands of receivers, dividends were passed, railroads gross earnings dropped one hundred millions in the ten months, or ten millions a month, bread lines were the longest ever known, and there was the greatest demand for charity. When we predicted these things we were called 'calamity howlers,' but I am reciting history now."

"Disappointed suffering citizens grown desperate by these conditions, when they ventured to ask for relief were told by the president that the apparent distress was 'purely psychological!'"

Republican Nominee Declares Tariff for Revenue Only Will Not Help Upbuild Industries of America.

SPEAKS IN COLD OF WYOMING'S SUMMER

Cheyenne Fetes Former Governor and Presidential Aspirant During the Day—Denver Is Next Stop.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 25.—Charles E. Hughes tonight addressed an audience at Frontier Park here on the importance of upbuilding American industries to meet European competition after the war. This, he said, could not be done under a tariff for revenue only, but could be accomplished under a protective tariff.

Mr. Hughes spoke to an audience that shivered in the cold night air notwithstanding heavy wraps and overcoats. The nominee was half an hour late in starting his address. In beginning he emphasized the fact that he represented a reunited party.

"We have set aside our differences in order that we may achieve our national aims," Mr. Hughes said. These aims are so high that they transcend every possibility of difference. I come as the spokesman of an historic party, reconstructed to its best ideals and pledged to the service of this great nation at an extremely critical time.

"The problems that we are facing today are not exactly like those that we have dealt with in the past. We are entering upon a new era of history. I do not think the world would be the same world after the European war that it was before."

"The upbuilding of American industry," he said, "lies at the very foundation of the future of the United States. It can never be done under an administration that bases its tariff for revenue only."

Mr. Hughes reiterated his declaration that he favored the appointment only of competent experienced men to the diplomatic service.

A group of cowboys led the way from the Cheyenne Hotel to the Frontier Park, whooping as they galloped along. In their dust came the nominee and Mrs. Hughes, in the first of a string of automobiles. Mr. Hughes spoke from a rough board stand, hunched together late today, facing the grand stand.

During the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Hughes held a reception at the hotel meeting the women of Cheyenne. Later they visited the almost deserted army post nearby. Port D. A. Russell. After tonight's meeting there was another brief reception at the hotel and the nominee, thoroughly fatigued, retired to his car which will be held over in the railroad yards until five o'clock tomorrow when the star for Denver will be made.

WOLGAST OUTFOUGHT

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Frankie Callahan outfought Ad Wolgast in every round of a ten round bout in Brooklyn. Callahan forced the fighting all the way. Wolgast frequently clinched. He was nearly knocked out in the ninth round when Callahan landed a right swing on the jaw. Wolgast weighed 138½ and Callahan 137.

GARRETSON AND HOLDEN SPEAK AGAINST EACH OTHER AT WASHINGTON PARLEY

The two most prominent men in the public eye, outside of the president himself, are A. B. Garretson and Hale Holden. These two men, chosen from the keener brains in the railroad and unions worlds, are representing their respective sides at Washington. A. B. Garretson is spokesman for all the 400,000 railroad employees who are asking the eight-hour day; Hale Holden, president of the C. B. & Q., is spokesman for the railroad presidents and managers.

VILLA GENERAL ESCAPES TO INTERIOR

Mexican Who Surrendered Juarez to Carranza and Dared to Enter Mexico, in Conflict with Soldiers.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

EL PASO, Aug. 25.—Manuel Ochoa the Villista general who surrendered Juarez to the Constitutionalists last December under a grant of amnesty, was captured in this district yesterday by Mexican customs patrols and escaped after killing one of his guards, according to reports received this evening by General Francisco Gonzales at his Juarez headquarters.

Ochoa, who had been a political refugee in El Paso, crossed the Rio Grande about thirty miles below here with five followers with a view to joining the revolutionist, Mariano Tames. He and three of the men were caught by the Mexican customs guards stationed at Guadalupe, who had been apprised of his movements. While being held prisoner, Ochoa suddenly wrested a gun from one of the guards and killed him. The prisoners then made a dash for liberty. They escaped with the exception of one, who was retaken.

General Gonzales reports that his men are close on the trail of the fugitives. Ochoa is an uneducated peon, but with considerable talent for leadership. Tames, also a former Villista, commanded the civilian volunteers in Juarez during the American crisis and deserted several weeks ago in the hope of joining his old chief.

McDONALD THOUGHT SAFE

CHIHUAHUA CITY, Aug. 25.—Apprehension manifested here recently for the safety of Bernard MacDonald, Canadian mining expert who, with his party, has been inspecting mines in the Naica district of Durango, in the section in which bandits have been operating, was allayed today with the receipt of reports that the Villistas had turned into the hills near Santa Gertrudis.

Reports of Villa's death are received in official circles here with reserve. Well informed persons, however, openly scoff at the reports.

Colonel Riojas, commanding the garrison at Ojinaga, today reported everything quiet along the eastern Chihuahua border.

ACTIVITY SEEN ON GRECIAN FRONTIER

Little Fighting on Russian Salients Though Grand Duke
Pressing Turks in Armenia, Scene of Campaign.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

PARIS, via London, Aug. 25.—The Germans have made a new assault on the French line at the tip of the famous salient of St. Mihiel, but have been repulsed after gaining a footing in French trenches, according to tonight's war office statement.

Apparently from the French statement the Allied troops do not plan an advance on the right wing in Greece as British cavalry detachments are reported to have destroyed bridges over the Angista River. On the left wing Paris reports "appreciable" progress for the Serbians and the capture of several hundred prisoners. In the center where the main effort of the Allies is expected, heavy artillery action is taking place but there is no report of infantry operations.

The lull on the eastern front continues but the renewed offensive by the Grand Duke Nicholas in Armenia is growing in extent. The recent fighting in the region of Lake Van is described in Petrograd as a crushing blow to the Turks and Russian military critics predict the resumption of the Grand Duke's advance toward Asia Minor.

The usual period of comparative inactivity has followed the western front gains reported by Paris and London, is partially confirmed by Berlin. The Germans have, however, attempted a new blow at the French at the point of the famous St. Mihiel salient. This salient juts far into the French line southeast of Verdun and has been the scene of some of the bloodiest fighting in France. The force of the German blow carried them into the French trenches but Paris says they were immediately evicted by a counter attack.

London again has been the target for a Zeppelin raid and, as usual, the accounts issued by Berlin and London conflict. Berlin claims that the British capital was heavily bombarded by several naval dirigibles and that batteries and vessels were struck. According to London only one of the Zeppelins reached the outskirts of the city and the material damage done was slight. Eight persons were killed and 36 injured, according to the British version.

Habeas Corpus Is Refused By Judge

Word was received last evening to the effect that the habeas corpus petition, brought in behalf of O. S. French, had been denied by Judge O'Connor and the prisoner remanded to the custody of Sheriff Wheeler of Cochise County.

INSPECTING BOARD

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Investigators working under direction of Chief Revenue Agent Dan J. Chaplin are making their annual inspection of transactions of the members of the board of trade.

ARBITRATION INCLUDED IN PROPOSAL OF HEADS

Four Leaders of the Railroad Brotherhoods, Previously, Had Delivered Ultimatum to President for Their Men.

NO FORECAST UPON
ACTION CAN BE MADE

Railroad Executives Say It Is Not a Question of Eight-Hour Day, But One of a Direct Increase in Wages.

(By Review Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—After the heads of the four great railroad brotherhoods had gone to the White House today with a warning that their men would not wait longer than tomorrow for a reply from the railroad executives to President Wilson's suggestions, the executives tonight agreed upon a counter proposal to be submitted to the President tomorrow. This plan holding to the demand for arbitration to which the men are unalterably opposed, proposes:

"That the question of an eight hour day is not directly connected with the matter at issue and that there is a difference between an actual eight hour day and an eight hour day as basis for pay. That the present demands of the trainmen be submitted to arbitration by the interstate commerce commission or some board to be created by the President or in some other way."

"That if the arbitrating board finds wage increases should be granted their findings will not be retroactive."

"That a fund shall be created by the railroads to provide for this contingency, the interstate commerce commission to keep the accounts that will be necessary and the arrangement to continue in force for a time not yet decided upon, the men agreeing that during the period of arbitration there shall be no further demands nor any attempt to strike."

A draft of the report was submitted tonight by the committee of eight presidents who have been constantly at work upon its various phases for a week.

There was some discussion, but only one vote was taken and by it the sixty presidents and managers approved the draft. Some slight additions to the phraseology are to be made and the final draft presented at another meeting tomorrow. From that meeting the report is expected to be taken to President Wilson. It was said tonight this will be the final proposal.

"It is squarely up to the men," was the way one of the presidents put it. The crisis in the situation is expected by noon tomorrow, when the President has an appointment to see the brotherhood leaders. Some of the executives say that while the proposal would not give them more than 20 per cent increase in wages provided in effect in President Wilson's plan it probably gives an increase of over 10 per cent. After the vote several of the executives made suggestions, which the committee of eight probably will include in the final draft.

Throughout the discussion the executives took the position that the question of the eight hour day was entirely one of wages rather than of principle. They said tonight they never had voted formally on President Wilson's plan as a whole but that all of their discussions had shown that it could not be accepted in its entirety. The plan now agreed on will be the first presented by the executives since the negotiations began.

Leaders of the brotherhoods could not be reached tonight for discussion of the railroads' proposals, but among the men it was plain that they were against it. Although the railroad presidents would not attempt to forecast how their counter proposition would be received by the men, (Continued on Page Two.)

SECRETARY LANSING WILL ATTEND FIRST SESSION OF MEXICAN-AMERICAN COMMISSION ON OLD MEXICO

(By Review Leased Wire.)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 25.—Secretary Lansing will attend the first meeting of the American Mexican commission to adjust border difficulties which will be held in New York September 4. An official announcement of this determination was issued by Secretary Lansing.

Mr. Lansing has not decided whether to issue formal instructions to the American commissioners. The meeting in New York will be only a preliminary to the effort to find a solution for the various problems arising out of the border situation.

Plans will be drawn up then for the use of the commissioners in afterward they will be taken on a naval vessel to the New England seaport selected for their deliberations.

The superdreadnought Pennsylvania probably will be assigned for the purpose. Secretary Lansing did not announce at what city the conference would be held. But it was virtually declared in his talk with the commissioners today. The secretary will confer with Mico Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, before making the announcement. Further information which the state department desires to communicate to the American commissioners will be presented to Secretary Lane or Professor Rowe, who will remain in Washington all next week preparing for the session of the joint commission.
